home-spun pantaloons, mixed with blue black suspenders tied round his waist with a string; likewise, had on a blue cloth roundabout jacket. I think it probable that he may have changed them. He is apt to be impudent when spoken to and speaks very quick. It is

POETICAL DEPARTMENT.

FROM THE BOSTON CENTINEL.

TO A GREAT STATESMAN.

May all the powers of thy capacious mind—A mind with the love of country, & thy kind Distinguish wisely in these trying times—Imparting Justice, but avenging crimes—So shall thy country's glory proudly rise O'er present shadows to empyreal skies, Nor shall thou share with Faction's God The prize.

A HUSBANDMAN.

Roxbury, Sept. 1809.

AN UNINTENTIONAL PUN AT A COUNTRY BALL.

Says the Captain so gay, as he handed Miss down,
"What a number of belles for a small country town!" Miss simply replied, "Sir few towns can boast more."
"There are six at the great church, and the small one has four."

OBSERVATIONS ON PASSION.

BY A FRENCH AUTHOR.

In every country in the world, mankind are more or less subject to passion, and its effects vary according to the climate and custom of the people. At Japan, for instance, a man rips open his belly in the presence of his adversary, who is obliged to do the same, on pain of being looked upon as a coward. In Italy, a man poignards his enemy; this is much more convenient. In Spain, they plunge their swords into each other, with a degree of gravity enough to make one expire with laughter. In France, they mount a coach together, exchange mutual compliments on the way, then alight in the "Boulogne," and with the utmost pleasant imagination, give one another the choice of having their throats cut or their brains blown out. In England, they lay their hat, wig and clothes in the street, and bruise each other with their fists till they are tired.
This effect of rage, the least silly of them all, inasmuch as it is least dangerous, has its particular rules, from which the combatants must never deviate, and which, besides, the spectators always take care shall be observed.
The combatants are forbidden to strike each other any where below the waistband.
They must not pull one another's hair, if they happen to have any, nor must either strike his antagonist while he is down. They may kill one another if they can by blows on the head and breast, and the victor is carried off in triumph by the enraptured multitude.

The practice of boiling the grain given to horses, progresses in England. One bushell of oats so managed, is stated to be as good as two bushels given in the usual manner.

NEW POLITICAL VIEWS.

FROM THE BRATTLEBRO' REPORTER.

Embargo, Non-intercourse, and Policy of the Belligerents.

NO. V.

The directory admitted of no substitution; but the severity of this principle is now relaxed in favor of such as are adjudged "incapable of sustaining the fatigue of war," or "whose labors and studies are deemed more useful to the state than their military services." Proxies are therefore received only ad libitum; not as a matter of right; and never without a special mandate from the minister of war. The conscript furnishes a sum of about 5l. (100 francs) for the equipment of his substitute, who must be between the age of twenty-five and forty, of the middle size at least, of a robust constitution, of a good character certified by his municipality, and himself beyond the reach of conscription laws. He bears the surname of his principal, in order that the latter may be known and compelled to march, should his proxy desert, or be lost from any cause than death, or wounds received in battle within the term of two years.

All the enacting classes of this system are fortified by heavy denunciations against public functionaries, parents or others who contribute to defeat or retard its operation.
Any health officer or other functionary convicted of furnishing a false certificate of infirmity, &c. is subjected to five years imprisonment in irons. All civil and military officers, even of the highest rank, convicted of favoring the escape, or concealing the retreat of a fugitive, are exposed to excessive fines. Conscripts detected in counterfeiting infirmities, or mutilating themselves, are placed "at the disposition of government" for five years, to be employed in such public labors as may be judged most useful to the state. The absentees or refractory conscripts, whose apprehension is secured by the most minute and efficient precautions, besides undergoing the corporal punishment entailed on their offence, are amerced in a sum of fifteen hundred francs, equivalent, from the comparative value of money in the two countries, to about two hundred and twenty pounds sterling. This sum, together with the expenses in the pursuit, is levied inexorably on the real property of the father or mother, should the fugitive possess none in his own right.*

Nine garrison towns are designated, throughout the empire, as depots for the refractory conscripts. They are lodged in the citadels, subjected to a most rigid discipline, and made to work in the arsenals, or on the roads, clad in a particular uniform, with their heads closely shaved. Five years constitute the term allotted to this confinement; but it is added, "that they are to be gradually drafted into the army, as they give tokens of docility and reformation!" Every conscript absenting himself for 24 hours from his depot, is punished as a deserter. A special council of war is assembled to decide upon cases of conscription.
The penal sanctions are 1st, death; 2d, the punishment of the ball (la peine du boulet) and 3d, public or hard labor.

Such is the government to which the Pseudo Patriots and self-styled Republicans of the United States refer us for samples of liberty. This government, if we may believe the writers of the Chronicle and other creatures of Bonaparte in America, is now fighting to give independence to oppressed nations. This government is to wrest the freedom of the seas from the grasp of British ambition, and to introduce a millennium of universal peace and prosperity!

It is worse than ordinary lunacy, it is downright raving madness, to maintain that the rulers of France would establish codes of conscription in this country of a more mild and moderate nature than those which are established in France. The metropolis of the jacobin empire is Paris. Those countries which are farthest from the seat of government will suffer the most severely

NOTE.

* It will not be impertinent to exemplify here, the immoderate rigor exercised on the points now before us, by a few paragraphs taken at random from the journals of the country. The following is from the "Mercure de France," of August 1809.— "Jean Vidal, sen. of the commune of Orbon, in order to enfranchise his son from the conscription, had employed a false document, knowing it to be false. This document was the register of his birth, in which it was stated that he was born in 1734—altho' the real period of his birth was 1744.— His object was to be considered as having attained the age of 71, and therefore entitled to claim for his son the indulgence of the law. The special court of criminal justice has, by a decree of 21st July, condemned this person to eight years labor in irons, to be branded with a hot iron on the left shoulder, to an exposition of six hours, and to the expenses of the prosecution, and of 400 copies of the decree." The two following are from the Journal de L'Empire, of August 2d and 7th. "The tribunal of corrective police (police correctionnelle) of Paris, finished yesterday the trial of seven persons charged with extortion from conscripts, "Escoquerie en matiere de conscription." "Tessaire, a surgeon's apprentice, was accused of having blown into the eyes of a multitude of conscripts, a powder calculated to excite inflammation, and of having received from their friends, for his service, various sums between two and three thousand livres, somewhat more than 200l. from each. Six other persons were accused of making him known to different conscripts, and of sharing in his profits. While one of these, a goldsmith, called Lugat, the father of three children, took his place at the bar, his wife was carried to the grave, having died of fright, when she was told that her husband had been summoned to appear before the tribunal to answer to a charge connected with the conscription. This melancholy catastrophe induced the tribunal to mitigate his punishment. The rest, and among them a woman of some respectability, suffered the utmost rigors of the law." The second is not a little singular. "The military commission of (department of the Po) decided, in the course of last July, a case of delinquency with regard to the conscription. Two inhabitants of Turin were convicted, by this commission, of having forestalled (accapare) a great number of substitutes for the department, by maintaining them at their own expense in houses appropriated to this object, and then selling them out at an advanced price to the conscripts who wished to have proxies. "This traffick," says the Moniteur, "by which the substitute receives but a small sum, while the broker receives a very large one, must always prove injurious to the lower classes."

the capacity of the conquerors. Let us suppose, then, the old world to be divided into two parts, the head, and in whose hands the reins of their ambition were placed, and the tail, and in whose hands the reins of their ambition were placed. They began with a plan, and are pursuing a system of conquest, instead of fighting for liberty as our pretend-d patriots would induce us to believe, and they intend that conquest shall be co-extensive with the globe.

But formidable as are their arms, their arts are still more to be dreaded. Every part of the civilized and habitable world has been surveyed for the purpose of conquest. The pupils of the Topographical School have pervaded every part of the U. States, with an eye to their future conquest. Not a harbor, not a city, not a town, not a military post, not a bye-path, nor a high road in this country of which there are not better maps in Paris than in the United States. These maps are taken by pupils of the Topographical School, with military eyes, and for military purposes.

In the present attempt of Bonaparte to subjugate Spain, we have read of Spanish armies losing their way on their native mountains through the ignorance or treachery of their guides. No such thing, however, has ever happened with the French armies. The pupils of the Topographical School had surveyed every foot of ground, and were perfectly at home in the Pyrenees or the Sierra Morena.

A work which we have read, but have not now before us, containing an Epitome of the military events in the conquest of Switzerland by the French, and written by Frenchmen, who had been engaged in the subjugation of that country, attributes the successes of the French principally to the accurate knowledge which they had previously obtained of the seat of war. They explored passes in the Alps, and overwhelmed the natives by pouring their troops through avenues, which the inhabitants of the country supposed were unknown or impassable to foreigners.

RICHMOND, November 14.

On Tuesday last, the Corner Stone of the RICHMOND ACADEMY was laid in the presence of a number of spectators. The procession marched from the capitol in the following order:—

The Rifle Band of Music; the society of Free Masons, with the stone and the emblems of their craft; the Governor and Council of State; the Mayor and Corporate body of the City; Messrs. Gerard, Wood and Doyle, at the head of their numerous Pupils; and Citizens. When they arrived at the foundations of the building, the Corner Stone was laid at the east angle by the Society of Free Masons, and the inscription on the plate and a Masonic prayer to the Fountain of Grace were read by the Governor, amidst sympathizing wishes for the prosperity of the Institution.

A small silver plate was imbedded in the Corner Stone, with the following inscription upon it:

DEDICATED

To the Education of Youth and to the diffusion of useful knowledge as the basis of perpetuating the

FREE GOVERNMENT

At present enjoyed by this happy country.
THIS CORNER STONE
Was laid on the 7th November, A. D. 1809, during the administration of JOHN TYLER, Governor of the Commonwealth, who personally attended with THE COUNCIL OF STATE, The Mayor and Corporate body of Richmond, the Society of Free Masons and a number of Citizens.
THE INSTITUTION
Governed by Twenty-four TRUSTEES.

The funds of this institution are drawn from the proceeds of a Lottery, and from voluntary contributions. It is to be hoped, that the patriotism and generosity of our fellow-citizens will readily supply whatever funds may be eventually wanting for its establishment. Long may it prosper! Long may it bloom for the honor of the city! Richmond may be its fruits! And numerous may be the similar institutions, which may take root in our state! For education is one of the surest props of our liberty—the warmest friend and the most finished ornament of the civilized world!

St. Andrew's Society.

A stated quarterly meeting of the St. Andrew's Society, will be held at the house of John McLeod, on Tuesday Evening next, at 6 o'clock. Punctual attendance is requested.

James Patton, President.

November 17.

AT a respectable meeting of the citizens of the town and neighborhood of Alexandria, friendly to the aid & encouragement of Domestic Manufactures, held by adjournment at the old Bank, Wednesday evening, the 15th inst.

JONATHAN SWIFT, esq. in the chair.

The committee, to whom was re-committed certain Articles of Association (reported to the last meeting) for revision and amendment, made report that they had the same under consideration, and presented the following; which being read, was approved of, and the blanks being filled up, was ordered to be printed for the information of the public.

Test,

JOHN MACLEOD, Sec'y.

ARTICLES OF ASSOCIATION,

OF THE Domestic Manufacture Company, of Alexandria.

WHEREAS many citizens of the town and neighborhood of Alexandria, are well disposed to aid and encourage the infant manufactures of our country, as well from the patriotic situation she is placed in as respects Foreign nations, as from a desire to render her more independent of their supplies, and especially of those articles of clothing, which habit has rendered, not merely comfortable, but of first necessity. But to do this, individual good-will and efforts fall far short of the desired object, and recourse must be had in this, as in several great designs, to form an effective aggregate of talents and pecuniary resources.—For this purpose—We, the subscribers to the following Articles of Association, declare our object to be—to raise a fund, to make advances on deposits for sale, and for the purchase and sale of articles of domestic growth & manufacture, and such foreign materials as come within the description of Dye Stuffs exclusively.—And hereby form ourselves into a company or limited partnership, and do mutually agree with each other, and hereby bind ourselves to conduct the business of the Company under the name and style of the "Domestic Manufacture Company of Alexandria," and conformably to the rules and regulations herein after specified.

Article 1. The capital stock of the Company shall consist of Twenty thousand dollars, to be divided into two thousand shares of ten dollars each, and to be paid in the manner following, that is to say, two dollars on each share to be paid at the time of subscribing, and one dollar on the first Tuesday of every month thereafter, for and during the space of eight months from the opening of the subscription; and a failure to make punctually any payment after the first, shall incur a forfeiture of all that shall have been previously paid on such share. But the capital stock of the company may be increased to any sum not exceeding Forty Thousand dollars, if the proprietors of two thirds of the capital stock of the Company, by their concurring votes at any annual meeting, give their assent thereto, and such increase of stock shall be made up by additional shares of ten dollars each, and payable in such installments and at such times as the Board of Directors shall appoint.

Article 2. As soon as the whole or one thousand shares of the said capital stock shall have been subscribed for, and the first payment made thereon, a meeting of the Stockholders shall be called by public notice in the Alexandria and Washington newspapers, to meet in the court-house of Alexandria either in person or by proxy duly authorized, at which meeting the stockholders, either personally or by proxy shall elect by ballot seven of their own body to act as directors of the said Company for one year, and at every succeeding election two of the Directors who have served the preceding year shall be ineligible; and should the whole seven having served the preceding year have the greatest number of votes, then the two lowest of the said seven shall be declared as not elected, and the two next highest on the list voted for, shall take their places, and if in any case the votes are equal, those to be appointed or rejected to be determined by lot; and such succeeding elections shall take place annually on the second Tuesday in February; but for the present year for the more immediate organization of the business of the Company, the election may be held on an earlier day and at the direction of the commissioners appointed to receive subscriptions, and the number of votes to which each stockholder shall be entitled, shall be in proportion to the stock he may hold as follows: For one share and not exceeding six shares, one vote each; for every two shares over six and not exceeding ten, one vote each; for every three shares over ten and not exceeding sixteen, one vote each; for every four shares over sixteen and not exceeding forty, one vote each; and for every ten shares over forty, one vote each; and no stockholder shall be permitted to vote (except at the first election) who has not held his stock for twenty days prior to the election, and in all elections after the first, the proxy shall be made in such form as the Board of Directors shall appoint.

Article 3. The affairs of the said company shall be carried on in the town of Alexandria, under the superintendence and control of the said Directors, of whom any four shall form a board or quorum, they shall choose a chairman from among themselves, and in case of vacancy by death, resignation or otherwise, such vacancy shall be immediately filled by themselves from among the stockholders. And the said Directors shall in no case whatever, contract debts or engagements, by bill, bond or otherwise, for, or on account of the Company, but that all dealings under their superintendence and control aforesaid, shall be for cash or barter, except goods on deposit, which may be sold by the direction of the consignor. The said Directors shall also exhibit at the annual meeting of stockholders, for their inspection, a statement of the affairs of the Company for the year preceeding.

Article 4th. The Directors when elected shall proceed without delay to appoint an Agent and such other officers as may be requisite, all of whom shall hold their offices during the pleasure of the Board, and who shall, before they enter upon their functions, give bond with sufficient security to the said Directors and their successors in office for the faithful discharge of their duties, as prescribed by the Board of Directors.

Article 5th. It shall be the duty of the Agent, when so appointed, to have the charge of the cash, goods, deposits, books and papers of the Company, to make purchases, receive deposits, make advances of money, or exchange goods for deposits, make sales thereof, and to effect insurance on goods transported by sea, where the Company have an interest in the property under the rules prescribed by the Board of Directors. He shall be allowed a yearly salary, and a certain rate per centum, in addition thereto, of the net profits accruing to the said Company, before the dividends are declared, the amount of both of which to be fixed from time to time by the Board of Directors.

Article 6th. All receipts for goods deposited for sale shall be signed by the Agent, and the funds of the Company shall in no case be held responsible for any deposits of goods whatever unless so signed.

Article 7th. The shares of capital stock at any time owned by any individual stockholder shall be transferable on the books of the Company, according to such rules as may agreeably to law be established in that behalf by the Board of Directors; and it is further expressly agreed & declared, that any stockholder who shall transfer in manner aforesaid all his stock or shares to any other person or persons whatever, shall thereupon cease to be a member of this Company, and that any person or persons whatever who shall accept a transfer of any stock or share in this Company shall thereupon become and be a member of this Company, according to these articles of association.

Article 8th. It is hereby expressly and explicitly declared by the persons who associate under the name or firm of the "Domestic Manufacture Company of Alexandria," that the joint stock or property of the said Company (exclusive of dividends to be made in the manner hereinafter mentioned) shall alone be responsible for the debts and engagements of the said Company, and that no person who shall or may deal with this Company, or to whom they shall or may become in any wise indebted, shall, on any pretence whatever, have recourse against the separate property of any present or future member of this Company, or against their persons, excepting the officers and servants of said Company, in regard to the faithful discharge of their respective duties in the conduct of the affairs and administration of the funds of the said Company. And all suits to be brought against this Company (if any shall be) shall be brought against the Agent for the time being, and in case of his death or removal from office, pending any such suit against him, measures shall be taken, at the expense of the Company, for substituting his successor in office as a defendant, so that persons having demands upon the Company may not be prejudiced or delayed by that event, or if the person suing shall go on against the person first named as defendant (notwithstanding his death or removal from office) this Company shall take no advantage, by writ of error or otherwise, of such proceeding on that account; and all recovery had, in manner aforesaid, shall be conclusive upon the company, so far as to render the company's said joint stock or property liable thereby, and no further; and the Company shall immediately pay the amount of such recovery out of their joint stock, but not otherwise: And in case of any suit at law, the agent shall sign his appearance, upon the writ, or file common bail thereto; it being expressly understood and declared, that all persons dealing with said company, agree to these terms and are bound thereby.

Article 9th. Dividends of the profits of the Company, or so much thereof as shall be deemed sufficient and proper, shall be declared by the Board of Directors in the third week in January in each year, and shall in no case exceed the amount of the net profits actually acquired by the Company.

Article 10th. If the said Directors shall at any time wilfully and knowingly make or declare any dividend which shall impair the said capital stock, all the Directors present at the making or declaring of said dividend, and consenting thereto, shall be liable in their individual capacities to the Company, for the amount or proportion of said capital stock so divided by the said Directors; and each Director who shall be present at the making or declaring such dividend, shall be deemed to have consented thereto, unless he shall enter in writing his dissent on the minutes of the proceedings of the Board, and give public notice to the stockholders that such dividend has been declared.

Article 11. The Company shall not purchase or hold any lands, tenements or other real estates.

Article 12. Any number of stockholders, not less than forty, who, together, shall be proprietors of four hundred shares, may, for any purpose relative to the institution, at any time apply to the Board of Directors to call a general meeting of the stockholders; and, if by them refused, the said number of stockholders, proprietors of not less than the number of shares aforesaid, or a majority of the directors, shall have power to call a general meeting of the stockholders, giving at least sixty days notice in the Alexandria and Washington newspapers, specifying in such notice the object or objects of such call.

Article 13. This Association shall be and continue for the term of ten years, from and after the first election of directors, but may be dissolved at any period prior thereto, or continued for any length of time thereafter not exceeding twenty years: provided, the proprietors of two-thirds of the capital stock of the said Company, by their concurring votes, give their assent thereto; but no dissolution or extension shall take place unless notice of a meeting to consider such proposition, be published in the Alexandria and Washington newspapers for six weeks previous thereto.

Article 14. Immediately on the dissolution of this Association, prompt and effectual measures shall be taken by the directors then existing, for converting into cash the stock on hand, closing all the concerns of the Company, and for dividing the capital and profits which may remain, among the stockholders, in proportion to their respective interests.

Article 15. The books of subscription for shares in this institution, shall be opened in Alexandria, on the first day of December next and shall remain open for the space of one day, at least, under the direction of George Deneale, Hugh Smith, John Longden, John M. Kinney, and James Irwin, or a majority of them, of which public notice shall be given in the Alexandria and Washington newspapers. In case the whole number of shares shall not be subscribed for on that day, the Commissioners, or Board of Directors shall have authority to open the books afterwards at their pleasure; but if it should happen that more than the stipulated number of shares should be subscribed for, then the commissioners hereby appointed, are to apportion them among the subscribers, by deducting from the highest subscriptions until they are reduced to the proper number. The commissioners will issue receipts to the different stockholders, which receipts with the original subscription shall be deemed good evidence of the quantity of stock to which each subscriber shall be entitled in this company.
